CHANGING CLIMATE

The Port of San Diego wants to hear from you

As an environmental steward of San Diego Bay, the port is developing a plan to prepare for the possible impacts of climate change. A public workshop featuring Nicola Hedge of the San Diego Foundation will be held on June 9 to discuss predictions and impacts of local climate change on the tidelands and San Diego Bay. We invite you to attend this workshop to learn about climate change and to share your input.
